PROVINCIAL EXPENDITURES.

It is claimed by the Grits that the Conservative Government of the Dominion is unnecessarily extravagant, and that the advent to power of the Grit party and the formation of a "Reform" Government at Ottawa would lead to a reduction of taxation and expenditures. To accept such a theory it is necessary to shut one's eyes to the facts connected with Dominion expenditures, and to blot out of remembrance the record of the "Liberal" Administration of the Dominion from 1873 to 1878, and also that of the previous which the Liberals have ruled or are ruling.

The expenditures of the Dominion, under a Conservative Administration, has been all but stationary for the last eight years. During the five years the Grits were in power the expenditures increased 22 per cent and the debt from $96,848,402 to $140,302,000. The expenditure and debt of every province under "Liberal" rule have also greatly increased.

In Ontario the Liberals came into power in December 1871. The expenditures that year was $1,816,784. The expenditure in 1874 was $4,088,357, and more than that. Still, Macdonald's expenditure of $5,000,000 in hard cash is also true. The debt in 1871 was nothing; in 1893 it was $1,011,000, payable under the annuity system extending over a period of 40 years. They had also sold about $10,000,000 worth of the people's timber and spent the money. In Ontario the expenditure under a Liberal Administration, has doubled, and the debt grown from nothing to the figure given above.

In Quebec a Liberal Government came into power in January 1887. The expenditure in 1887 was $3,032,007. In 1891, when the Liberal Government went out, it was $4,005,000. In 1880 the debt of Quebec was $19,008,023; in 1891 it was $25,845,148. A Liberal Administration in Quebec, in five years, increased the expenditure by one-third and the debt to practically the same extent. It also incurred liabilities on behalf of the Province which have since become a charge upon its revenues, and necessitated the borrowing of some five millions more.

In Nova Scotia the Liberals came into power in July, 1884. The expenditure in 1883 was $541,000; in 1892 it was $822,462. The debt of Nova Scotia in 1884 was $1,014,744; in 1893 it was $3,142,022. The Liberals in Nova Scotia have increased the expenditure by one-third and multiplied the debt three times.

In New Brunswick the Liberals came into power in March, 1883. In 1882 the expenditure was $614,226; in 1893 it was $898,000. In 1883 the debt of New Brunswick was $1,898,372; in 1893 it was $2,792,297. The Liberals in New Brunswick increased the expenditure, and more than doubled the debt.

In Manitoba the Liberals came into power in January, 1887. The expenditure of Manitoba in 1887 was $529,190; in 1894 it was $632,000. In 1887 the debt of Manitoba was $229,100; in 1893 it was $4,388,250. The Liberals in Manitoba have added to the expenditure by one-fifth and doubled the debt.

In the provinces, before the Liberals attained power, there was as profuse in their promises of economy and retrenchment in provincial affairs as they now are in the Dominion affairs. There is no evidence of retrenchment or economy in the provincial accounts where they rule. There was none in the Dominion when they ruled and there would be none in the Dominion if they ruled now.

LABOR NOT "ON THE FREE LIST."

Why did our Canadian workmen object to free Chinese immigration? And why did the Government impose a duty of $50 on every immigrant from China coming to this country? Because it was known that if the Chinese swarmed in it would make our own wages impossible. It was just because the higher civilization could not contend in this respect on a free field with the lower that the higher civilization had to put brains into the scale and protect itself. If, then, we protect ourselves against Chinese labor, why should we not protect ourselves against a lower level of labor as represented by imported goods? But some Grit friend says, "labor is on the free list," and at first sight the statement seems to have something in it, but when thoughtfully considered it is utter nonsense. Does the Englishman, or the Frenchman, or the German when he lands in Canada bring his rats of wages with him? No, he at once adopts our higher standard of living and consumes as necessities much that would have been the greatest luxuries to him in the land he left. He, therefore, does not enter into competition with our workmen here in any sense like he did under the lower standard of living in his former home. Because the Chinese will not adopt our standard of living, but competes with our workmen here on conditions similar to what he would in his own land, we make him pay a tax on coming into the country.

"The Common People," As Abraham Lincoln said, they do not care to argue about their ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement, "I know that this medicine cures me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine. The argument is what many thousands voluntarily say.

BOUJON'S FUNERAL.

ADAPTED FROM THE FRENCH.

Some time ago I came across the following story in the course of my French reading, and being pleased with it, I translated it for my own amusement. It has been forgotten its author, if, indeed, he is one of those wretched of French literature who think themselves for their existence, care not to fail.

H. J. FENNELL.

Before the half-filled grave, Juliet, a fellow-traveler, who had undertaken to speak in the name of the representatives of wine-merchants, had just finished his speech. "You, dear old friend Boujon, who have followed us here to share that life with friends as ever friends. You were a wine-merchant who loved your business, a husband who loved your wife, a father who would have loved your children if fortune had been kinder and enough have given you any. If this can console you, dear old Boujon, I assure you with very heart, that you bear with you into this your last resting place, the esteem of all that part of the city in which you lived and did business, and of the sympathy of all who loved you. Fare you well, Boujon, fare you well."

To this last farewell, delivered with the most skillfully modulated pathos, a cry of grief responded. The widow, Mrs. Boujon, who stood by the grave, wept as if her heart would break. "Poor woman, she loved him so much!"

In the meantime Marie, the cook of the Boujon household, had arranged the funeral home. It was to be a very sober affair, a truly Spartan rest, nothing but a little velvet and a more simply what was necessary to refresh a departed man who had so long accompanied the departed by his last resting place. "Only what is strictly necessary," the widow had commanded. "The day of burial is not an occasion for rejoicing and merriment, but a day of mourning."

At seven p.m. the cortege returned from the cemetery and stopped before Boujon's house which looked solemn indeed, with its front door closed, and the windows and shutters drawn. "Closed because of death."

Mrs. Boujon, her eyes red with weeping, was the first to enter, supported on the one side by the elegant Juliet, and on the other by a neighborly friend. In the middle of the shop, in front of the zinc counter, the table had been set. They gathered around it in a most sober and thoughtful mood, and Marie, the cook, in the veil.

At first they ate very slowly, observing the most religious silence. The widow who sat between Juliet and the fruit-vendor, ate nothing. At last she said, "Oh, my poor Boujon!"

At this every tongue in the assembly suddenly broke loose, and the table was dug diligently to render homage to the many virtues which it was over the custom to recognize in the dead.

"Just to think that a week ago he was behind his counter, and the next day he was no more!"

"And we all must meet the same fate!"

"Such a kind, honest man."

"Such a jolly fellow."

"All the same the master had a rather heavy hand," added the kitchen maid. "You know that madame."

"Hush! Marie," severely replied the widow, "if he beat me I deserved it. He had to be a little severe with me, for I was a bit of a trouble-maker. I must not pity the departed but rather he who remains behind."

"Alas," sighed the widow, wiping her eyes. "Come, come, Mrs. Boujon, you must be sensible. Even if you were to weep every day, you could not bring back the dead. You are right, Mr. Juliet," said the widow, "may I lend you a little more wine?"

When everything was over, the mourners whose cheeks were decidedly flushed kept their places around the table. As for Madame Boujon, though she had been a look of inconsolable widowhood, her gloomy eyes betrayed a feeling of intense satisfaction. Juliet ventured upon some pleasant remarks, and the conversation became more cheerful. The fruit-dealer had moved his plate and sat down beside the fat, good-natured kitchen maid, who had been plied with a slice from time to time, yet she did not seem to take it all.

As time passed and the hours grew late more and more voices continued to be heard. The conversation became decidedly animated, and was still more enlivened by outbursts of hearty laughter. Suddenly the porter, who sat at the further end of the table and who had been in the background, burst out with a loud laugh, a little too loudly.

"Oh, the son of a bitch from the golden east, Sing to us in his song to us in his song."

"I was thinking of poor Boujon. Dear man, if he were here."

The invited guests, who had been produced upon the motion of the scene, looked at the guest of honor with a look of surprise. They looked at him as if he were a stranger, and as if he were a man who had just come from another world.

The Sunday law in Germany has the drinker instead of the purveyor. The Court of Appeal at Erfurt has just a small number of cases in which the thirty man 75 cents for drinking a glass of beer at a tavern during the day is considered a crime.

Sweden can boast of a steamboat on wheels. This unique vehicle makes regular trips over the ice and snow, and another near by. To leave one lake it approaches the shore with a full load of steam on, rubs over the rails of the connecting road to the top of the mountain, and then descends the other side, and then screws propellers morrily clear the waters again.

At the banquet of the Lord Mayor's banquet in London will show, there seems to be some difference between a public dinner and a banquet. The latter is a more formal affair, and the former is a more informal one. The Lord Mayor's banquet is a more formal affair, and the former is a more informal one.

When Birds are Frightened.

At the balloon race at London, the birds were frightened by the noise of the balloons and ran in for some three miles, emerging over the chalk downs and skimming about 150 feet over a windmill. Passing over a large rabbit warren, it was amusing to witness the alarm of the rabbits as they fled in the direction of the windmill.

As one passes over the fernyard there is always a regular succession of the ferns under cover, while ducks dash into the ponds and dive frantically in order to avoid the water.

THE METRIC SYSTEM.

A committee appointed by the English Government has reported recommending that the metric system of weights and measures, etc., be immediately legislated and that the use of the system be compulsory after two years. The metric system of weights (the word "metre" is from the Greek "metron," a measure) is greatly to be preferred to all others, the relation of the metric weights of all the nations to measure of length, capacity and surface being so simple as to be within the comprehension of a child; while under the Canadian, British, American, and other systems, no such relation exists either with each other or with the various measures. Moreover, the metric system is in perfect harmony with the universal method of counting; it is the decimal system.

It is perhaps impossible to realize, much more express, the advantages we enjoy from the fact that in every country in the world the system of measurement is identical. That system is the decimal. Whatever language a man speaks, his method of numbering is decimal; his talk concerning number is decimal. With the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0 he represents all possible variation in number, the position of a figure on the left hand of any other figure in an allocation of numeral symbols (for example 1871) varying times the value of that figure, while the figure on the right hand of any other figure has a tenth of the value of that other. When the youngest pupil is asked how many units there are in 1871, he smiles at the simplicity of the question and says 1871. How many tens? 187 and 1 over. How many hundreds? 18 and 71 over. How many thousands? 1 and 871 over. But if asked how many acupoles there are in 1871 grains, how many drachms, how many ounces—he first enquires which drachms, or which ounces are meant, avoirdupois ounces, Troy ounces, or druggists' ounces, and then brings out his slide and pencil. And so with pints, quarts, gallons in 1871 fluid ounces, or the feet and yards in 1871 inches, or the pence, shillings and pounds in 1871 farthings; say nothing of cross question, such as the value of 1871 at $2.20 per dozen, or of the perplexity caused by the varying values of several individual weights or measures of length, capacity, and surface in different parts of the country. What is desired is, that there should be an equally simple decimal relation among weights and measures, as already universally exists among numbers. This condition of things (the metric system) having already been introduced into most other countries, there is no good reason why it should not be accomplished in Canada, the United States and Great Britain.

The metric system of weights and measures is founded on the metre. The tenth part of a metre in length is divided into ten centimetres, and each centimetre into ten millimetres. The unit of length is the metre, derived from the measurement of the quadrant of a meridian of the earth. The unit of surface is the are, which is the square of ten metres. The unit of capacity is the litre, which is the cube of the unit of a metre. The unit of weight is the gram, which is the weight of a quantity of distilled water, at its maximum density four degrees centigrade, which fills a cube of the one-hundredth part of a metre.

The adoption of the metric system by Great Britain would pave the way for those countries which have not yet adopted it to do so. The needs of commerce have outgrown the old-fashioned practice of measuring and weighing, and in the result of applying the primitive standards to the great business transaction of the present day is an enormous amount of incorrect calculation. Should Great Britain adopt the metric system, its legislation in Canada would soon follow, and the United States would not be long following suit.

LAURIER'S TRICKERY.

The Mail and Empire concludes an excellent article on Mr. Laurier's school question with regard to the Manitoba school question as follows: "Briefly said, the situation is this: Mr. Laurier offered to help the Roman Catholics, and then allowed, and most probably advised, his friends at Winnipeg to refuse relief. He recommended an appeal to Ottawa; and, while promising in Quebec that the appeal shall be effective, is organizing, through the Toronto Globe, Sir Oliver Mowat's political machinery, and the candidate in North Ontario, opposition to his own scheme. To crown all, he has made a representation regarding the procedure by Ottawa which a gentleman in his own party is obliged to denounce as untrue. This network of tergiversation and duplicity, the desertion of the Roman Catholics, the untrue statements to Protestants, has been devised for the purpose of setting the people of both religions at enmity, and of gaining a triumph for Tarte and Pascal on the one hand, and Sir Richard and his free trade insanity on the other, out of religious discord."

There is a Mr. J. D. But where that chivalrous, silver-tongued leader, who professes to have lost his voice for Quebec and all the other provinces? Why don't he go into North Ontario and confirm or deny the utterance attributed to him by the organs of his party in his speech at Chatham? "Thank God there are no Orangemen among us, the Liberals!" Speak now, Mr. Laurier.

On this subject the Mail and Empire says: Mr. Laurier never denied, much less has he withdrawn, his expression of thanks. He has certainly declared that statements attributed to him by the Tories were not uttered by him. The statement, however, was not attributed to him by the Tories; but by La Roche, L. B. E. (Laurier's paper), and La Cultivator (Tarte's paper). As a matter of fact, Mr. Laurier does not deny the remark. Were he to do so he would be faced by affidavits from hundreds of men in Chatham, the publication of which would make his position worse than it is.

A BRICK HOUSE on the east side of South Church, which was erected in 1894, was held on Sunday, December 1st. The new church was dedicated about seven years ago, and since that time has been eleven funerals within its walls. The first of these was on New Year's day, and during the short period of its history, it has held eight funerals and sympathetic services, delivered over the graves of departed friends, who were carried to their last resting place. It seems as though it were just built in time to furnish the last service for some of its best supporters. It has also been the center of the most successful revival of the village has ever seen. The services were both well attended. The Rev. J. H. Baker, of Bridport, Belleville, assisted by Revs. A. L. Adam and T. Meyers. The choir sang the excellent anthem, "By the Rivers of Jerusalem." Mr. Baker, as he began the 6th chapter of Matthew and took as his subject "The 10th chapter of Romans." The spirit itself makes it interesting for us with glowing which cannot be uttered. The sermon was indeed a good one. He said, "There are keywords, keynotes, key thoughts and key problems to the doctrine of the Holy Ghost. It is not a mere quotation of words, but it is fellowship and communion with God. The Spirit knows what we desire, and he shall have. What kind of a father is God? At the evening service, Rev. E. H. Stratton, President of the B. C. of Conference, preached. The audience was filled to overflowing, and the lecture room had to be used. The choir sang 'Benedictus in the Lord.' The sermon was taken from the 11th chapter of Hebrews, and was a most excellent one. The collection was $10.00.

PRINCIPAL CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

RELATIONS WITH ENGLAND.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The session of the House today was very brief, and was consumed entirely by the reading of President Cleveland's message. It was listened to with fair attention, but the features of the document excited no sign either of approval or disapproval on the part of the members. The introduction of the reading, when several Democrats created a slight disturbance. When it was finished the House immediately adjourned until Friday.

President Cleveland's message to Congress, read today, is a long document. After referring to the state of the Union, and the relations of the United States to the world, it deals with the relations of the United States to the world, and the relations of the United States to the world.

Our relations with Great Britain, the message continues, have been marked during the past year even a greater share of consideration than usual. Several questions have been left undetermined by the decision of the British Government, and the application of the principle of non-interference has not been followed by the results they were intended to accomplish.

On this occasion we are going to use our space in the "Intelligencer" to talk to you about our...

Furnishing Goods Department.

There are lots of people in Belleville who do not know what a fine class of goods we have in this line, and customers that we can not suit are as rare as hens' teeth. In Ties for winter wear we have them in all kinds, checks, stripes, plain or otherwise, at all prices and a large assortment to choose from. Also we excel in Gloves, Braces, Underwear and Shirts, in Flannel all shades, White Shirts at all prices and all sizes, Fancy Shirts, &c, and our motto is "Shirts that are Shirts," as we are cranks on the subject of shirts and we are bound to do the trade in this line. We also wish it to be known as loudly as we can proclaim it that we have a very fine stock of Hats and Caps in the latest styles, and made by the best makers, and we positively state that we can suit the most exacting customers that ever walked in shoe leather in Fedoras and Soft Hats, in all shades and styles. Caps of all kinds from the cheapest to the most expensive. To the gentlemen of this city who wish to look always neat and dressy we would say that you ought to procure a pair of our

Champion Pant Stretchers

Which are very easy and simple to operate and no one should go without a pair. We cannot close this epistle without saying that we have without doubt the finest $5 Ulster that was ever shown to the public before, well made, warm, comfortable and a great warmer. Of course we have better ones. Call in and see us and we will use you right.

partial examination had been made before, on the 11th. There were evidences of a thorough examination as some of the organs had not been cut open. He viewed the external portions of the body. He thought it was in as good a condition on the 16th as on the 11th. Gangrene had attacked the fingers, and there were ulcers from two to three hundred. The skin on the shoulders and breast was natural. Bad sores were on the right hip, and one was commencing to form on the left. Wistness cut into the bone of the right ankle. The joints were tuberculous, and the joints were larger than they should have been in a boy of Greene's age. Greene's heart when the first post-mortem was made by Dr. W. G. Dow, a witness turned into it on the 18th, and found an mortem fibrinous clots. There were three very large fibrinous clots and one small one. Witness said that the immediate cause of death was the obstruction to the circulation by the clots. The lungs indicated signs

BRITISH PROTECTION.

Change—Lord Salisbury Holds Out Hopes of a Return to Protection—gated Imperial Zollverein.
 London, Dec. 15.—The feature some politics during the past week has has been the development of a more ed advocacy of protection. The demands for a change in the fiscal to protection, in one guise or another, have been more or less frequent for the past year or so. In the unexpected degree of prominence which the matter attained during the week has opened the eyes of the politicians to the extent to which the antagonism of free trade has spread in the provinces.

tural hall, Islington, has been the scene for mustering in London the hosts of representatives of every branch of industry connected with husbandry, and the Cabinet Ministers have been overwhelmed with deputations, urging them to take steps to prevent British agriculture from being wiped out by foreign competition.

The Marquis of Salisbury, replying to one of these deputations, said that he could not hold out the slightest prospect of protection, and explained that his famous speech at Hastings, 1892 was misunderstood. He added that when he denounced Cobden's attack upon the wall of tariff, never believed or expected a restoration of protection. This, with the replies of other Ministers, was extremely disappointing to a great body of their supporters, and the severe criticisms of some of the sturdiest Conservative organs, which followed, created quite a sensation.

lates the Ministers upon pleasing the National press, "whose criticism," he adds, "may console Lord Salisbury for the distinct chilliness of the Unionist papers."

The Standard remarks:—"Under Minister thus pledged to free trade the farmers should have free trade in the matter of sugar, i.e., fair competition."

The Morning Post says: "Lou Sallabury would be far more in touch with the sentiments and wishes of the masses if he defended and expanded his protection remarks."

is directed strongly and firmly to speedily alteration of the fiscal system which only hurts those who employ it."

DAIRY PRODUCE

Butter—For all strictly choice stock there is an active demand, but all cream, low, and tainted grades are very slow in selling. Choice large tubs, 16 to 18; medium tubs, 14 to 16; and small tubs, 12 to 14. The supply coming to East is liberal, but not too large to meet requirements. Following are the quotations: Dairy, 16 to 18; creamery, 14 to 16; creamery pounds, 21 to 23; creamery tub, fresh made, 20 to 22; large rolls, in boxes or barrels, 10 to 12; small rolls, in boxes or barrels, 10 to 12; medium dairy, in tubs, 6 to 11c.

Cheese—There is somewhat of a firm feeling. July and August makes are so slow in selling, and the fall makes are slow. Full cream September and October at 9c to 10c.

The Barnardo Hoy Case at Owen Sound.

The Judge Charges Against the Prisoners.

Owen Sound, Ont., Dec. 11.—(Special.) The Sunday manslaughter case was resumed to-day before Judge Cramson. The December session has been the case since the trial commenced the court has not adjourned all day. The defence last evening, and those who were taken up by the Crown, who offered evidence in rebuttal of matters which arose in the progress of the defence. The principal statements made by the prisoner himself, and by the medical men for the defence.

Mr. H. G. Tucker, prisoner's counsel, began his address to the jury at half past ten, occupying the first half hour, and pleaded in an eloquent manner for the acquittal of the prisoner.

Crown Attorney A. J. G. followed, and took the last two hours, following the life of Green from the time he left Liverpool in April last on board a steamer, till his death on the morning of the 10th inst. of the prisoner at Big Bay.

His Honour's charge was shorter than was anticipated, being of only thirty past three, and returned at ten minutes past eight.

When his Honour asked the testimony of Mr. Wm. J. Sturmont, if they had arrived at a verdict, he stated that they had not, and were not likely to do so. His Honour expressed his opinion that the jury agree, and thereupon discharged them.

The prisoner was then arraigned upon an indictment presented by permission of the trial judges, containing nearly a dozen counts, charging her with cruelty, wounding, etc., upon many occasions, and also with the murder of her husband, who she pleaded not guilty. The prisoner was admitted on similar bail as before, $2,000 in herself, and $2,000 in sureties.

A WISE RESOLVE.

The action of the Liberal Conservative Association of West Hastings in declining for the present to accept Mr. Curly's resignation will meet with general commendation. Mr. Curly's action is in accordance with his own previous record for his own honor and for the preparation, but he may be assured that his constituents will appreciate his conduct and will be content to have him remain in office, which he has occupied so long, until he shall see fit to leave them no choice in the matter.

THE COVETOUS CITY.

Under this heading the Montreal Gazette this week and clearly disposes of the objection raised against the course of the Dominion Government with reference to the Manitoba school question.

The most objection to the proposed remedial legislation in behalf of the Manitoba religious minority is that it embodies a policy of coercion. As the cry comes chiefly from the same sources that, up to a week ago, were issuing denunciations that the Government was afraid to do what it had declared was its duty, the amount of minority behind the new charge may be easily estimated. It is advanced, as any other cry would be, for the purpose of winning the votes of the thinking against the Ministry and its candidates. It is not a correct description of the Government's policy, or of the measure which Parliament is called to consider. No law, based on the constitution, and passed in violation of the Constitution, can be coercive. The term does not apply to the restraining hand of superior constituted authority held out to check or restrain a fault of legislation or administration committed by a body of political jurisdiction. The courts are every day interfering to prevent exactly such actions by municipal and other corporations which are given to overstepping the bounds of their powers. Nobody calls it coercion when a duly constituted court issues a restraining or injunctive order on a town or city council, when such a body is doing something the Legislature which created it should not do. Parliament is the court to which the Roman Catholics of Manitoba are now appealing. They allege that the Legislature of their province has taken away from them certain privileges which Parliament, when it created the province, meant should be enjoyed in perpetuity by the religious minority of the Queen's subjects within its borders, whether they happen to be Protestants or Catholics. The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, the court of final appeal in such cases, has, in a recent investigation, declared that these privileges have been taken away. It has decided, further, that Parliament has jurisdiction over the Roman Catholic subjects of the Queen's subjects within its borders, whether they happen to be Protestants or Catholics.  Mystery in London Still Unsolved—Fatal

Ottawa, Dec. 23.—(Special).—Some time ago it was intimated in this community that when the resignation of the Department of Agriculture was announced by the resignation of Mr. Macdonald, the position of Minister would yield to the often-expressed wish that an Ontario man should be appointed to the position, and that the position would most probably be filled by the transference of the position to the Department of State. This has now been done, and at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning the Hon. Mr. Macdonald will take the oath of office as Minister of Agriculture, before his Excellency the Governor-General, and the same day Mr. John F. Wood will be sworn in as Minister of the Privy Council, and will be appointed Controller-General, Customs, and Excise, and will be sworn in at the same time.

Mr. J. A. Oulmet will be appointed Interim Secretary of State.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Toronto, December 24

There was a large crowd at the Police Court yesterday morning when the Hon. Mr. Justice A. G. D. McRae presided in the case of William MacKinnon, alias Denison. The preliminary charge against him, of conspiring to murder and kidnap, was not, however, dealt with, the prisoners being remanded until Monday next.

On Friday morning at eleven o'clock Judge Ross will hear at O'Connell hall the case of the Hamilton Street Railway Company for alleged violation of the

The case will conclude on Friday.

William Stark, alias Langston, alias Long Tow, was put on trial at the General Sessions yesterday before Judge J. J. O'Brien. He was charged with obtaining money under false pretences. Early this year a man named William Stark, alias Long Tow, came to the police looking for "green goods," the name under which "bogus money" is generally sold. He was told that if Harry piloted him from Orillia, and he got him to Toronto he took out of him $100.00. He went to Orillia, where he was given a package of waste paper for which he was told he would get $100.00. The prisoner was the man, Long Tow, who gave him the bogus package. He went to Toronto, where he pilfered the package, and found that he had been swindled. Order and adjourn.

The prisoner Stark wrote to Detective Chief Inspector Chicago, who wanted to give himself up, which he did.

He was defended by Mr. Meltray, the evidence against him was pretty strong, and the jury, after being out for a half hour, brought in a verdict of guilty.

Frederick T. Williams, the post-office clerk, was charged with the murder, as brought before the judge for sentence. Judge McDougall gave him a term of four and a half years in Kingston penitentiary.

A well-tended Maxwell service was the scholastic of the Central Presbyterian church last evening to hear John Linton and R. W. Crichton, who were in the city from Venezuela, respectively, in the interest of the cause.

Very often Nature gives only a little help to get over an obstruction. When a boom of logs is floating down a river, it goes well until one single log strikes something and sticks. Then there's a

"Jan"—an trouble. It is just so in the progress of food through the digestive tract. It is very important to get rid of anything sticks. Then the process of digestion stops. That's indigestion. Unless the impediment is removed, poison will build up in the system. That's where there's a "jan"—constipation, and trouble. Sick headache, biliousness, peevishness, vertigo, heartburn, loss of appetite, nervousness, all are symptoms. Just a little help at the appearance of the first one would end the trouble. Nature's way is to get rid of poisons. But if you don't put them out, they will build up.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets offer the best and most certain method for furnishing relief. These pills are gentle and satisfactory effective in their action, but they are not strong nor severe. They cleanse the system, and give it ability. They ought to be "log" that is fast and then it. Nature does the rest. By riding with a little care in dieting, Nature will do it all. That's one great advance of the "Pleasant Pelelets" over the very strongly cathartic pills—you do not become a slave to their use. They usually cause the trouble they are meant to cure. Even the worst kind of chronic constipation disappears with their use.

It becomes a slave to their use. Dealers do not sell their customers to have Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pelelets. Dealers are not to become inferior to the great fact that most that you will go where you are supplied with what you can buy.

Lotharing Stock Daily Damaged,
The Thomas, Unit, Dec. 25 (Special).—About 23 tons of loathing being stored against the wall of the new bridge at the end of the runway leading to T. W. Crothers' saw mill, and the daily damage to the loathing stock of R. H. Grogan and the liquor store of G. W. McGowan, has been estimated at $1,000. The fire department took the first alarm at 11:30 p. m. and the stock of gentian's liquor, valued at $1,000, is totally ruined by water. The loathing stock is also considerably damaged. The value at $1,000 or $1,500.

Montreal, Dec. 27.—(Special).—The election in Montreal Centre to fill the seat vacated by the late Hon. J. A. James McShane, the Liberal candidate over Sir William Hingston, Conservative, was one of the most keenly contested ever witnessed in Montreal. Mr. McShane, on the return of the poll, having a majority of 256 votes over his opponent, Sir William Hingston, the English-Canadian voters. The Earl of Dufferin, however, as French Ward, commanded largely of French votes, gave him a majority of 209 votes of 222 votes, which was regarded as his particular stronghold, the People's Jimmy did not get so far as to get more than only 172. In the Centre, Wil-

HORSE THIEVES RUN TO EARTH

A Priest Accused of Arson—Heavy Exposure of Whiskey—Convicts in New York State

Montreal, Dec. 27.—(Special.)—The election in Montreal Centre to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons here resulted in a narrow victory for James McChane, the Liberal candidate over Sir William Hingston, Conservative. A majority of 326 votes in the election was one of the most keenly contested ever witnessed in Montreal. Mr. McChane, as the returns of the poll showed, carried the vote of the French-Canadian voters. The Earl of Arundel, composed largely of French Canadian voters, gave him a majority of 172. The Anglo-Saxon vote alone of 222 votes. The Anglo-Saxon vote, which was regarded as his particular stronghold, the People's Jimmy did not carry the vote of the Anglo-Saxons, winning only 172. In the Centre Ward which upriser the vote of the busness men, the content was very close but Sir McShane secured a majority of 55, while the West Ward gave Sir William Hingston a majority of 18.

Out of a total qualified vote of 10,000 electors 6,454 votes were cast.
The poll stood:—Mr. James McShane
2,352; Sir William Hingston, 2,629; managers, 1,473. The result of the elections were jubilant to-night over the result, and when the news became known a large crowd gathered in front of the City Hall and listened to speeches from the People's Jimmie and others. The crowd afterwards descended to the City's carriage through the streets and displayed the utmost exultation.

row's Canada Gazette will contain official notice of the appointment of D. Montague as Minister of Agriculture and Food, and as Minister of the Privy Council, and the appointment as Controllers of Customs and Excise, respectively, of J. B. McMillan and J. G. McMillan. The return of Mr. John A. Alexander to McGillivray from North Ontario will be gazetted to-morrow.

Mr. J. G. McMillan, who has been gazetted to the post of Minister of Agriculture, is a native of Ontario, and is a patriotic son. "The Flag for McMillan" is a slogan which has been heard in the streets of Montreal.

Letters patent of incorporation have been granted to the Canadian Fishery Company, of Montreal, capital $250,000.

General orders in to-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain the following:

The following changes in companies have been made:

No. 1st Battalion of Infantry, "Simco Foresters." No. 3 Company, from Janet's Corners to Coldwater; No. 2 Company, from Pictou to Midland.

To-day being the 72nd anniversary of the Battle of the Plains, the President of the regiment, a number of congratulatory lations from his friends, and was also presented with a handsome floral offering by the clerks in the Dominion office. It would be difficult to find the whole Dominion of Canada to thank a man of his years who is so hale and hearty as the Premier, who bears his ing sickness. To bring girls safe through the most critical period, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been found an unfailing aid. It is a preparation of pure, strongly tonic properties. It puts the whole body in good condition and is particularly efficacious in its action on the peculiarly feminine organism. There is no sort of trouble that it will not correct, taken in time. Thousands of possible cases have been cured by it. It works in a perfectly natural way and drives out disease by building up the strength and purifying the whole system.

Many modest women and girls suffer unspeakable torments because they dread telling their troubles to their friends. It is almost inevitable that examinations and "local treatment" of these things are usually wholly unnecessary.

Dr. Williams's Favorite Prescription will do what no other doctor in a hundred can do—it will cure. In our two page book entitled "The People's Medical Advisor," are hundreds of testimonials to its wonderful efficacy.

The book will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one cents in stamps, to prepay postage and duty only.
